Best Practice – I

A) Innovative Academic Initiatives

Title of Practice: Innovative Academic Initiatives

Goal: To Achieve Academic Excellence through Innovative Academic Initiatives in Legal Education

The Context

Al-Ameen College of Law has implemented several academic initiatives to enhance the educational experience for their students. These initiatives include:

1. Online Attendance Tracking System: This system allows for the efficient tracking of students' attendance, making it easier to monitor and improve attendance records.
2. Parents Alerts for Child Absence: Providing parents with alerts when their child is absent from class is a helpful way to keep parents informed and involved in their child's education.
3. Model Answers for Slow Learners: Offering model answers can assist students who may struggle with certain topics by providing a reference point for their learning and understanding.
4. Students' Achievements Awards: Recognizing and rewarding students' achievements can motivate them to excel and achieve more in their studies.
5. Customized College App: A dedicated college app can streamline communication and information sharing, making it easier for students and staff to access important resources and stay connected.

6. E-books on College Website: Providing e-books on the college website can make course materials more accessible and convenient for students, reducing the need for physical textbooks.
7. Multi-Language Website: A multi-language website can cater to a diverse student population, making information and resources available in different languages to accommodate a broader audience.

These initiatives demonstrate a commitment to modernizing and enhancing the educational experience at Al-Ameen College of Law, promoting better communication, accessibility, and learning support for their students.

B) Community Welfare Service

1. Title of the practice:

Community Welfare Service

2. Goal:

The main goal of the community welfare service is to support the needs of unprivileged communities. The institution conducts various programmes which seek to provide a minimum legal service.

3. The context:

The Community Welfare service is undertaken by the institution to support for disadvantaged groups such as the poor, elderly, disabled, students and unpaid workers. The Community Welfare Service are typically provided free of charge or at a nominal fee.

4. The practice:

The Institution upholds the Community Welfare Service by following practices:

- Health Checkup Camps and Distribution of Free Medicines to the poor
- Cleaning Drives
- Blanket Distribution to poor people sleeping on foot paths
- Legal Literacy Programmes to create the legal awareness.
- Flood relief Help to affected people
- Legal Survey

- Blood Donation Camps
- Distribution of Food and Fruit Packets to cancer patients

Al-Ameen College of Law is actively engaged in community welfare services. These practices demonstrate the institution's commitment to social responsibility and making a positive impact on the community. Here's an overview of the community welfare services they provide:

1. Health Checkup Camps and Distribution of Free Medicines: This initiative helps provide essential healthcare services to the underprivileged population who may not have easy access to medical facilities.
2. Cleaning Drives: Cleaning drives contribute to maintaining a clean and hygienic environment, improving the overall well-being of the community.
3. Blanket Distribution to Poor People Sleeping on Footpaths: This service is particularly crucial in providing warmth and comfort to homeless individuals during the colder months.
4. Legal Literacy Programs: Educating the community about legal rights and responsibilities is an important step in creating awareness and ensuring justice for all.
5. Flood Relief Help: Providing assistance to people affected by natural disasters, such as floods, is a vital humanitarian service.
6. Legal Survey: Conducting legal surveys can help identify legal issues in the community and provide insights into addressing them effectively.
7. Blood Donation Camps: Organizing blood donation camps contributes to saving lives and meeting the demand for blood in healthcare facilities.
8. Distribution of Food and Fruit Packets to Cancer Patients: Supporting cancer patients with food and nutritional resources is a compassionate service that can improve their quality of life during treatment.

These community welfare practices showcase the institution's dedication to social service and community betterment, aligning with broader societal goals of promoting health, education, and welfare.

5. Evidence of success:

The institution every year conduct community welfare services in and around Bangalore. The college selects down trodden areas for service. The student conducts survey before conducting the programme. After perusing, the survey reports the college conducts legal literacy programmes to create awareness among the down trodden community. The feedbacks collected on the conclusion on such several legal literacy programmes were very motivating and encouraging. The student of our institution gets enriched about the actual realities of life and the compounding problems of the society. This forces the students to think about remedial measures and accordingly become very keen observers in the proceedings of programme.

6. Problems encountered and resources required:

Every new initiative takes time to get materialized. Initially problems lie with regard to the approach which students need to adopt while conducting survey to conduct legal literacy programme. The experience of the institution over the years showed that while conducting the survey the students need to be very simple, respectful and be homely with the villagers. After giving them a confidence, the very purpose of the survey may be communicated to them with its merits. More importantly we have observed that the communication in the local language encourages them to speak.

• Sanitization in slums around the college.

AL-Ameen College of Law, who adheres to the protocol of the pandemic, took the initiative to sanitize the surrounding slums around the college through NNS united co-ordinated by NSS Coordinator, Mr Mubarak Khan, Syed Suhail & Mr Abdul .M Rawoathar. On the 12th of Sep 2020, also students & staff of the institution took part in successfully carrying out the programme.

During this programme the awareness about preventions & precautions of the pandemic (COVID) was been highlighted also face masks was distributed to the slum dwellers who required the most.

• Free Medical Aid to cancer patients.

Al- Ameen College of Law along with Nari Foundation an NGO associated with Narayana Hridalaya Foundation, conducted free Medical Camp & cancer screening for women specially through WOMENS CELL of the college, on the 20 March 2019, in college premises for all the women employees of Al-Ameen Educational Society, and women of the surrounding slum & locality , about 700 & odd women had undergone the test & screening , about 12 women were identified as positive for Brest Cancer who were in 4th stage , these women were treated by the Narayan Hridayala free of cost .
